Official launch of the new Youth Arts website for West Cork

www.yaac.ie

Going live Friday 24 April 2009

yaac.ie is a new website for all those interested in Youth Arts of any kind in the West Cork area. Post listings of activities, upload pictures of events or artwork and get involved in discussions.

If you want to generate some interest in your youth drama performance, recruit new members for a band, or plant the seed of an idea you've had that could grow into a successful project, then this is the place for you.

We are here to support youth arts projects throughout West Cork - music, visual art, drama, dance and literature, independent groups, individuals or organisations are all welcome.

Administered by West Cork Arts Centre, the website also provides an online meeting place for the Youth Arts Advisory Committee.

With thanks to Rocketmedia, the National Youth Council of Ireland, Bantry Youth Café, Beara Youth Development Project and all the committee members.
